“Out and Up”

- Explanation -

This play is designed to get the ball to Player #2. A good time to use this play is when the defense is trying to stop the short pass. The “Out and Up” by player #2 will look like a short pass but then turn into a deep pass up the sideline. If #2 is not open, the QB should look to pass to #1 or #4 as they cross the middle of the field.

“Three Up”

- Explanation -

This play is designed to gain a lot of yards by throwing the ball deep down the field. The offense would use this play when they need to gain a lot of yards or score a touchdown quickly. Player #1 and Player #2 will run pass routes that cross each other to hopefully confuse the defense and force them to lose track of the player they're defending.
